

The ALTARPRENEUR
AFTER-ACTION (YEARLY) REVIEW

Year _____ to _____

Called "one of the most successful organizational learning methods yet devised," the after-action review (AAR) was developed by the United States Army in the 1970s to help its soldiers learn from both their mistakes and achievements. Don't worry, you don't have to be in the Army to use this simple yet effective method. Whether you're a small business owner, an individual, or a couple, use the table below to capture key items that you want to focus on for the coming year. Reflect on the previous year and think about what lessons you can act on in the areas of faith, family, and career. Keep this sheet handy so you can stay on track.
