

"...the leader should always be more concerned with needs than wants...If the role of the leader is to identify and meet the legitimate needs of the people, then we should be constantly asking ourselves, What are the needs of the people I lead...if you get stuck on what the people need, then just ask yourself, What needs do I have?

[ From The Servant by James C. Hunter, pg. 66-67 ]

FAITH:
PEOPLE/GROUPS THAT I LEAD:	NEEDS:	THINK:
		Physical Spiritual Emotional Social Growth
		Future
		Etc.
FAMILY:
FAMILY MEMBERS I LEAD:	NEEDS:
CAREER:
PEOPLE/GROUPS I LEAD:	NEEDS:
, , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , ,		